CREAM GRADING PLAN PROTESTS ARE ANSWERED

State Dairy Commissioner Declares Dickinson 'Club' Is in Error in Protest

WON'T HURT SLOPE?

Town Criers Club of Dickinson Claims it will Destroy Dairy Industry

Resolutions passed by the Town Criers club of Dickinson, declaring that the cream grading system to be instituted in the state May 1 would destroy the dairy industry in western North Dakota were declared today by W. F. Reynolds, state dairy commissioner, to be "doubtless passed with good intentions but false all the way through."

On the contrary, Mr. Reynolds, declared, the system is to be put into effect to aid the producer. He characterized himself as a western North Dakota producer, having a dairy farm at Flasher, and probably one of the biggest producers in the state.

When newspaper inquiry was directed to the dairy commissioner today, he said he had not received the resolutions of the Dickinson club and expressed surprise at the text of the resolutions when read to him.

The Dickinson club, in resolutions passed by a Clifford Smith, Joseph Zander and C. H. Starke, the latter a member of the 1923 legislature, declared that the proposed system of requiring sale and purchase of cream by grades would injure North Dakota in that it proposes a discrimination of 25 per cent for cream having the wild onion flavor. It is asserted that wild onion flavor is common in western North Dakota, where native pastures are used, and as asserted that the flavor can be practically all removed in manufacture.

Can't Be Removed.

"The wild onion flavor cannot be removed," Mr. Reynolds declared. "If anyone can remove it he has made a fortune. It can be prevented, however. There is no onion flavor in morning cream because the grasses which produce it have passed during the interval between the feeding of the cow and milking. It can be avoided in the night cream, he said, by milking the cow before the grass has had time to grow on it."

"The object of the cream system is to raise the quality of cream, Mr. Reynolds said. When the same price is paid for good and poor butter it drags down the price to the hard-working and careful producer, he asserted.

"How are we going to create a market for North Dakota butter if we sell low quality, when Wisconsin, Iowa and other states grade their cream and sell on a quality basis?" Mr. Reynolds asked.

SAVED IN CRASH OF SEAPLANE

The P-3-L former army bomber converted into a seaplane, was forced to land off Cony Island, New York. In the night, Robert Dewey, a relative of the famous admiral, was pilot of the plane. He swam a half mile to shore and here are shown the plane and four of the survivors (left to right) Eugene Rhodes, Mrs. Muriel Rogers, of Detroit, only woman passenger, Dewey and Joseph S. Haehle.

TREES WORTH MONEY IN SALE OF PROPERTY

Dr. Waldron of Agricultural College Emphasizes Reasons for Planting

SPEAKS AT AUDITORIUM

If there is no other reason urging the planting of trees about the home, the fact that good trees are worth real money and add to the sale price of a home may well be considered, Dr. C. B. Waldron, of the Agricultural College, told the public meeting held in the Auditorium last night.

Enumerating reasons for surrounding the home with good trees, Dr. Waldron first suggested their beauty and then utility, in protecting the home from sun, etc.

Second, he said, trees make the home more valuable. He referred to the sale of a house in Fargo, just $1,500 was added to the sale price of the house because of beautiful trees planted 15 years before, he said. He quoted a New Rockford, Ill. business man as saying that the beautiful trees in that city on the streets, aside from those in the homes and parks, were worth $3,000,000 in making property more saleable and more valuable.

Third, he said that the way to get children to make more interest in the home is to make the home more attractive. If the home is bare and unattractive, and the whole family wants to get away from it after every meal, a social problem is arising.

Unfortunately, he said too often when people want to enjoy themselves they have to go out of their own town. Fargo, he said, was an example, for people went to a lake 50 miles distant. With 240 acres of park property recently acquired, Fargo hopes to correct this condition, he said.

"If all the school children of Bismarck want to have a big picnic where do they go?" he asked. "I wonder if there is any place in the city for them to go. If they haven't such a place they are not getting a social life."

STILL A NEW RECORD MADE

Youngstown, Ohio, April 28.—A new world's dancing endurance record was established here today when at 4:04 o'clock this morning Alfred Kish of this city had beaten the mark of 112 hours established Thursday at San Antonio, Texas, by one minute. Kish continued dancing.

MERCHANTS IN CITY ORGANIZE CREDIT BUREAU

Protection of Good Buyer as Well as Merchant Is Planned in Association

Articles of incorporation were filed today by a new concern in which the business and professional men of Bismarck have organized under the name of the "Bismarck Credit Bureau."

Already there are 42 firms signed up, and this assures permanency of the organization, it was announced. This membership is practically voluntary, and is expected to be increased.

"The bureau will be an affirmative and not a negative credit bureau," said one merchant. "Its chief function will be to determine who is in the trade territory of Bismarck is the good credit risk."

The average good citizen realizes that to obtain credit is a privilege and he is going to make every effort to reciprocate with his merchant, his banker, his doctor or his dentist by paying his bills promptly. Incidentally it will mean a healthier business condition, lower prices to the consumer and more thrift by the individual.

VICTORY FOR ANTI-CONVICT LEASE IS SEEN

With Tabert Investigation Finished, Battle on Florida System Held Won

PROBE KNABB 'CAMP' FREE STATE PONDERS

Next Week to See Probe Into Camp of Senator in Present Legislature

Tallahassee, Fla., April 28.—Temporarily laying aside the charges of convicts and alleged brutalities together with other affairs of legislation, the Florida general assembly today took its regular week-end respite. The joint committee conducting an investigation of the alleged beating to death of Martin Tabert, North Dakota youth announced yesterday the committee was finished with the Tabert investigation.

Next week the investigators will take up the alleged brutality to prisoners in the convict camp of State Senator T. J. Knabb. At the same time the general assembly will face final action on two bills relating to abandonment of the lease system of convicts and the abolition of the whip. The latter measure is expected to develop a sharp fight, according to indications here today.

The former measure now passed by the lower house will get senate action and there is no struggle looked for by members.

W. H. Baker, counsel for the Putnam Lumber Co., in whose camp Tabert was alleged to have met his death at the hands of Walter Higginbotham, whipping boss, conferred yesterday with Senator Stokes, chairman of the investigating committee and expressed regret that the sub-committee which located Clara, where the camp was located, were met by armed citizens.

PRaise NORTH DAKOTA

Appreciation of the services rendered in Florida in the investigation of the death of Martin Tabert, North Dakota boy who died in a convict camp, by States Attorney G. Grimson of Cavalier county and Judge W. J. Kneeshaw is expressed by Chairman M. P. Stokes of the legislative committee, in a letter to Governor Nestor.

"I thank you for your courteous letter of the 14th inst. confirming your telegram to me, and regret most much upon the Governor's part that the unfortunate death of Martin Tabert," read the letter of Mr. Stokes to A. W. Cox, secretary to Governor Nestor, who had informed Mr. Stokes that Messrs. Grimson and Kneeshaw were qualified to act for the state.

"Both Mr. Grimson and Judge Kneeshaw of North Dakota have attended every meeting of the joint committee of the Florida legislature, and we are giving this matter our earnest attention," Chairman Stokes added.

A letter received from Ed. A. Banks of Southport, Fla., declared that 99 percent of the people of Florida thanked North Dakota for instituting the Tabert investigation.

"The writer, as well as the majority of the good people of Florida welcome the co-operation of the officials of our sister state, North Dakota, in the investigation of the brutal murder of the Tabert boy and we hope this will spell the finish of the inhuman 'lease system' now in operation in Florida," Mr. Banks wrote.

DE VALERA IS READY TO QUIT HE ANNOUNCES

Leader of Irish Insurgent Wants to Meet and Talk Over Peace.

CLOSE ATTENTION BEING GIVEN TO STUDY OF PROPOSITIONS MADE BY DE VALERA

Dublin, April 28.—A suspension of hostilities by the Irish Republicans against the forces of the Free State government, and an effort to negotiate peace with the Free State on certain conditions were proclaimed by Eamon De Valera, Republican leader, and his chief of staff, E. F. Aiken.

De Valera's proclamation set forth the general political principles of the Republicans and asserts that the ultimate court of appeals for deciding disputed questions is a majority vote of the people of Ireland; that resistance by violence should be excluded, but that adequate facilities should be afforded the people for a proper presentation of the issues involved.

The effect of this proclamation is still doubtful. De Valera all along has declared his willingness to abide by a decision based on the free will of the people, but he is said still to maintain his original position that the British government must not interfere in Ireland if the people decide in favor of a republic.

DISCUSS OFFER.

Dublin, April 28.—Eamon De Valera's statement of the condition on which the Irish Republicans are willing to negotiate peace shed little light on the political situation, in the opinion of Free State government circles, although it does contain a definite offer suspending hostilities as evidence of the "irregular" good will.

De Valera's proclamation contained six proposals which are generally regarded as embodying the points of his old position. He asserts that "the Irish people constitute the ultimate court of appeal for deciding disputed questions of national expediency and policy" and declared in substance that principles holding the Republicans should not be excluded from the councils of government.

This position set forth in article four is taken in some quarters as expressing the desire that the oath of allegiance prescribed by the treaty with Great Britain may be waived. The article asserts that no class of individuals who subscribed to "the principles of national right, order and good citizenship" contained in the proclamation can be justly excluded by any political oath, test or other device from a proper share and influence in determining national policy as from the councils and parliament of the nation.

Kevin O'Higgins, Free State minister of home affairs, did not grant his weekly interview with the press today. It was announced that he was confined to his room with a cold and that he would deal with De Valera's proclamation in a letter interview.

This was taken in some quarters to mean that the government is giving the subject most careful consideration.

Minister O'Higgins is regarded as rather in advance of the general public sentiment in the vigor of his opposition to suggested peace deals.

15 MEN MAKE WHISKY HAUL

Louisville, Ky., April 27.—Fifteen men held up cars at the W. B. Samuels distillery near Bardonia, Ky., early today and carried away 20 barrels of whisky in a stolen trunk, according to reports received by federal prohibition officers.

GET $20,000 IN TWO DRIVES

Jamestown, N. D., April 28.—More than $12,000 has been subscribed toward the fund to pay for a site and take care of the deficit of the local Y. M. C. A. here since the campaign to raise $15,000 began Monday.

In the meantime the students of Jamestown college are making their drive to raise $10,000 toward a new gymnasium for which $40,000 has already been donated, and have reached the $7,500 mark. The "Y" drive was given impetus at the start when the board of directors contributed $4,500, and are themselves making the drive.

Another drive also on at this time is the American Legion post drive for members, receiving fair success.

HOUSE OF DAVID CALLED FRAUD BY JUDGE GIVING COMPENSATION TO HANSEL FOR SERVICES TO "KING"

Damage Case in Federal Court Is Won By Pair Who Started Expose of Cult Located at Benton Harbor, Michigan — Written Decision Filed

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 28.—The House of David colony and Benjamin and Mary Purnell, its leaders, were characterized as frauds in a written decision filed by Judge John E. Sather today.

Judge Sather, in his opinion, awards compensation to John and Margaret Hansel for their services while members of the colony.

350 CITIES TO USE DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN

Local Ordinances to Cause Enforcement in Many Eastern Cities

CHIEFLY IN FAR-EAST

Legislative Attempts Failing. People of Communities Urge Plan

New York, April 28 Daylight saving time will begin at 2 A. M. tomorrow under local ordinances in about 350 cities and towns in a group of eastern states, as well as a few scattered middle-western cities.

Massachusetts is the only state having a daylight saving statute. The new time will continue until 2 A. M. September 30.

New York and New Jersey are the principal states in the eastern time zone in which, under local ordinances, clocks will be advanced one hour, while about 50 scattered cities and towns in New England, outside of Massachusetts, will observe daylight saving either by local ordinance or by common consent.

Daylight saving throughout Massachusetts was assumed by the recent action of the House in refusing to consider further the repeal of the present statute.

In Connecticut attempts to prevent daylight saving time failed earlier this month when the state Senate defeated an anti daylight saving bill, which the House previously had passed. The bill provided for a fine of $100 or ten days imprisonment, or both, for the willful display of any but standard time in public places.

Some members of the legislature considered that the bill even applied to wrist watches. Members from the rural districts opposed any change in time.

The Council of Hartford recently voted for daylight saving, after the failure of an attempt by the legislature to have a referendum on the question. Hartford, so far as known, is the only municipality in the state to take this action.

Last year such cities as New Haven, Hartford, New London, Norwalk, Bridgeport, New Britain, Meriden, Waterbury and others in the manufacturing district observed daylight saving by common consent, or by earlier working hours without changing clocks.

In Delaware, where Wilmington and Newport last year observed daylight saving time under local ordinances, an anti-daylight bill this year passed the legislature and became law without the governor's signature.

There was talk of the possibility of court action against the law, which compels courts, public offices and banks to operate on eastern standard time.

"REVOLUTION" TALK FAILS TO SHAKE COURT

Attorney for I. W. W. Threatens Action If Trial Is Postponed, But It Is

SPREADS TO OIL FIELDS

New York Man Arriving to Direct Strike in Los Angeles Is Detained

San Francisco, Calif., April 28.—Spread into the southern California oil fields the I. W. W. strike which previously had affected only marine and forest workers and a declaration in court that delay in trial of two men said to be members of the I. W. W. might result in a "revolution" were the outstanding points in the demonstration today.

The declaration regarding a revolution was made in a police court in Seattle, where H. M. Peters and O. A. Steiner faced a charge of making threats to workers on the docks. It was made by their attorney, George Vanderveer, in opposing a continuance of their trial which nevertheless was set for May 15.

To Enforce "Rights."

"Thousands of workers are in Seattle to enforce their rights," Vanderveer said. "Labor is impatient. These men are entitled to a speedy hearing. Unless they get it I shall not be responsible for what happens. A revolution may result from delay."

Mayor Brown of Seattle announced that he had accepted an offer of a committee of I. W. W. to assist in keeping the peace. The committee volunteered to furnish evidence of illicit liquor selling or gambling, the mayor said, and were requested to turn in any evidence of law violations.

Oregon points toward the strike had made little headway in that state but I. W. W. leaders said the strike order for Oregon was today and tonight might see a different state of affairs in that area.

More to Walk Out.

Oil fields affected by the strike were those at Long Beach, Huntington Beach and Santa Fe Breaks, where about 600 men quit work yesterday. Workers said they quit in sympathy with the 1,800 longshoremen on strike at San Pedro. I. W. W. chiefs said that the last members of a detachment of marine transport workers at that point had voted to quit and probably would walk out today.

J. B. Childs, said to have been sent from New York to direct the strike in Los Angeles district, was arrested yesterday and booked on a charge of distributing inflammatory literature.

Will Import Men.

Edwin Nichols, manager of the Ship Owners' Association at Los Angeles, said men would be imported to take the places of the strikers if the latter remained away from work for a few days longer. A number of vessels were unable to discharge cargoes at Los Angeles because their crews abandoned them when they docked.

Sailing of three vessels from San Francisco were delayed by the strike, portions of their crews deserting them with the declaration they would not return to work until Thomas Mooney and Warren Billings, convicted of participation in a bomb plot some years ago, which persons lost their lives, were freed.

Lumber Workers Quit.

From Montana and Northern California came word that groups of lumber workers, in one case as large as 60 in number, had quit work and in Plumas county, California, there were threats of violence should any lumber men or mill operators attempt to continue operations during the strike.

Seattle dock workers served notice yesterday they would not handle cargo lightered to that port from Everett, Wash., where several vessels, having been unable to take on lumber cargoes as the result of the strike.

CREAM GRADING PLAN PROTESTS ARE ANSWERED

State Dairy Commissioner Declares Dickinson Club Is in Error in Protest

WON'T HURT SLOPE?

Town Criers Club of Dickinson Claims it will Destroy Dairy Industry

Resolutions passed by the Town Criers club of Dickinson, declaring that the cream grading system to be instituted in the state May 1 would destroy the dairy industry in western North Dakota were declared today by W. F. Reynolds, state dairy commissioner, to be "doubtless passed with good intentions but false all the way through."

On the contrary, Mr. Reynolds, declared, the system is to be put into effect to aid the producer. He characterized himself as a western North Dakota producer, having a dairy farm at Flasher, and probably one of the biggest producers in the state.

When newspaper inquiry was directed to the dairy commissioner today, he said he had not received the resolutions of the Dickinson club and expressed surprise at the text of the resolutions when read to him.

The Dickinson club, in resolutions drawn by Clifford Smith, Joseph Ziegler and C. H. Starke, the latter a member of the 1923 legislature, declared that the proposed system of requiring sale and purchase of cream by grades would injure North Dakota in that it proposes a discrimination of 25 per cent for cream having the wild onion flavor. It asserted that wild onion flavor is common in western North Dakota, where native pastures are used, and asserted that the flavor can be practically all removed in manufacture.

Can't Be Removed.

"The wild onion flavor cannot be removed," Mr. Reynolds declared. "If anyone can remove it he has made a fortune. It can be prevented, however. There is no onion flavor in morning cream because the grasses which produce it have passed during the interval between the feeding of the cow and milking. It can be avoided in the night cream, he said. "Last year the onion season lasted just 10 days and ordinarily lasts but one month," Mr. Reynolds said. "It will be short this year because the conditions will cause quick growth of grass."

The object of the cream system is to raise the quality of cream, Mr. Reynolds said. When the same price is paid for good and poor butter, the producer has no incentive to produce down the price to the hard-working and careful producer, he asserted.

"How are we going to create a market for North Dakota butter if we sell poor quality, when Wisconsin, Iowa and other states grade their cream and sell on a quality basis?" Mr. Reynolds asked.

The resolutions as recorded in the Dickinson Press assert that the cream grading rules are discriminatory in that it classifies as rejected cream, any cream which has wild onion, French weed, potato, etc., flavor to be purchased at a price 25 per cent less than the price paid for No. 2 cream, that "most of the pastures upon which the cows are pastured in western North Dakota are natural pastures whereon grow wild onion and French weed and other native flowers and grasses which impart a flavor to the butter fat during the months of April, May, June and July, of each year," that "such flavors are practically all removed in the process of the manufacture of such flavored cream, but do not detract from the value of such cream," that such regulations "will, if persisted in, destroy the dairy business in western North Dakota," and that the system is contrary to law.

The resolution was addressed to Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor Joseph A. Kitchen and to other Town Criers clubs in the state and newspapers.

HOUSE OF DAVID CALLED FRAUD BY JUDGE GIVING COMPENSATION TO HANSEL FOR SERVICES TO "KING"

Damage Case in Federal Court Is Won By Pair Who Started Expose of Cult Located at Benton Harbor, Michigan — Written Decision Filed

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 28.—The House of David colony and Benjamin and Mary Purnell, its leaders, were characterized as frauds in a written decision filed by Judge John E. Sather today.

Judge Sather in his opinion awards compensation to John and Margaret Hansel for their services while members of the colony.

350 CITIES TO USE DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN

Local Ordinances to Cause Enforcement in Many Eastern Cities

CHIEFLY IN FAR EAST

Legislative Attempts Failing, People of Communities Urge Plan

New York, April 28.—Daylight saving time will begin at 2 A. M. tomorrow under local ordinances in about 350 cities and towns in a group of eastern states, as well as a few scattered middlewestern cities. Massachusetts is the only state having a daylight saving statute. The new time will continue until 2 A. M., September 30.

New York and New Jersey are the principal states in the eastern time zone in which, under local ordinances, clocks will be advanced one hour, while about 50 scattered cities and towns in New England, outside of Massachusetts, will observe daylight saving either by local ordinance or by common consent. Daylight saving throughout Massachusetts was assured by the recent action of the House in refusing to consider further the repeal of the present statute.

In Connecticut attempts to prevent daylight saving time failed earlier this month when the state Senate defeated an anti-daylight saving bill, which the House previously had passed. The bill provided for a fine of $100 or ten days' imprisonment, or both, for the willful display of any but standard time in public places. Some members of the legislature considered that the bill even applied to wrist watches. Members from the rural districts opposed any change in time.

The Common Council of Hartford recently voted for daylight saving, after the failure of an attempt in the legislature to have a referendum on the question. Hartford, so far as known, is the only municipality in the state to take this action. Last year such cities as New Haven, Hartford, New London, Norwalk, Bridgeport, New Britain, Meriden, Waterbury and others in the manufacturing districts observed daylight saving by common consent, or by earlier working hours, without advancing clocks.

In Delaware, where Wilmington and Newport last year observed daylight saving time under local ordinances, an anti-daylight bill this year passed the legislature and became law without the governor's signature. There was talk of the possibility of court action against the law, which compels clocks, public offices and banks to operate on eastern standard time.

Tentative arrangements have been made by the Merchants Association of New York to have Marcus M. Marks, president of the National (Continued on Page Three)

FAMILY FIGHT STIRS WEST SIDE, AND EVEN STOPS A GAME OF GOLF

It was a good fight—it wouldn't have broken up a golf game if it hadn't been.

Not at all exclusive either—the whole families had a hand in it. The fathers lunged lustily with fists, the wives pulled hair heatedly and the children yelled vociferously.

It happened in the twilight last evening far out on West Rosser street. The neighbors ended the fight, and the aftermath was court. The story the neighbors gathered was that the families, living below the hill on the west side, became embittered because the numerous children quarreled during the day.

One father started downtown in the evening to meet the other father coming home from work, with the avowed and irrevocable purpose of beating up the other father. The mother and children trailed along to witness the grand onslaught. The wife of the other got wind of the attack being launched, and she gathered her children and started to town to warn her husband of the menacing force.

The whole crowd met far out on west Rosser St. There wasn't much time wasted in preliminaries. Poisonous epithets were launched as a barrage and then the fight started. The battle spread. Soon the mothers were into it. And the children weren't an appreciative audience at all. They cried out loudly.

Neighbors ran out. Golfers at the Country club heard the sounds of battle and ran to the scene. A crowd gathered. It was almost too good a fight to stop. But to uphold the peace and dignity of West Rosser street a few neighbors stopped the men. One witness says they couldn't bear to stop the spectacular battle of the women. But they quit, anyway.

Bruises were nursed, injured feelings vented in muttered epithets the children quit crying and peace and dignity was restored to West Rosser street.

The fight is said to have been the outgrowth of the child of one hitting the child of another with a rock. Three boys were taken before Police Magistrate yesterday afternoon and committed to juvenile court. No other charges have been filed.

"REVOLUTION" TALK FAILS TO SHAKE COURT

Attorney for I. W. W. Threatens Action If Trial Is Postponed, But It Is

SPREADS TO OIL FIELDS

New York Man Arriving to Direct Strike in Los Angeles Is Detained

San Francisco, Calif., April 28.—Spread into the southern California oil fields the I. W. W. strike which previously had affected only marine and forest workers and a declaration in court that delay in trial of two men said to be members of the I. W. W. might result in a "revolution" were the outstanding points in the demonstration today.

The declaration regarding a revolution was made in a police court in Seattle, where H. M. Peters and O. A. Steiner faced a charge of making threats to workers on the docks. It was made by their attorney, George Vandervoort, in opposing a continuance of their trial which nevertheless was set for May 15.

To Enforce "Rights."
"Thousands of workers are in Seattle to enforce their rights," Vandervoort said. "Labor is impatient. These men are entitled to a speedy hearing. Unless they get it I shall not be responsible for what happens. A revolution may result from delay."

Mayor Brown of Seattle announced that he had accepted an offer of a committee of I. W. W. to assist in keeping the peace. The committee volunteered to furnish evidence of illicit liquor selling or gambling, the mayor said, and were requested to turn in any evidence of law violations to the police.

Reported the strike had made little headway in that state, but I. W. W. leaders said the strike order for Oregon was today and tonight might see a different state of affairs in that area.

More to Walk Out.
Oil fields affected by the strike were those at Long Beach, Huntington Beach and Santa Fe Breaks, where about 600 men quit work yesterday. Workers said they quit in sympathy with the 1,800 longshoremen on strike at San Pedro. I. W. W. chiefs said that the 100 members of federation of marine transport workers at that point had voted to quit and probably would walk out today.

J. B. Childs, said to have been sent from New York to direct the strike in Los Angeles district, was arrested yesterday and booked on a charge of distributing inflammatory literature.

Will Import Men.
Edwin Nichols, manager of the Ship Owners' Association at Los Angeles, said men would be imported to take the places of the strikers if the latter remained away from work for a few days longer. A number of vessels were unable to discharge cargoes at Los Angeles because their crews abandoned them when they docked.

Sailing vessels from San Francisco were delayed by the strike, portions of their crews deserting them with the declaration they would not return to work until Thomas Mooney and Warren Billings, convicted of participation in a bomb plot some years ago in which 10 persons lost their lives, were freed.

Lumber Workers Quit.
From Montana and Northern California came word that groups of lumber workers, in one case as large as 60 in number, had quit work and in Plumas county, California, there were threats of violence should any lumber men or mill operators attempt to continue operations during the strike.

Seattle dock workers served notice yesterday that they would handle cargo lightered to the port from Everett, Wash., where several vessels have been unable to take on lumber cargoes as the result of the strike.

MARRIAGE BY LOTTERY WAS "KING'S" RULE

Innermost Secrets of House of David Are Bared to Grand Jury

COUPLE HAD REVOLTED

St. Joseph, Mich., April 27.—Innermost secrets of life in "King" Benjamin Purnell's House of David are revealed to the grand jury in its investigation of alleged immorality in the colony, when Benjamin Hill, 34, and Mrs. Lillian Hunniford, 22, took the witness stand.

The couple were intercepted early yesterday at Stevensville, 12 miles south of St. Joseph, after they had fled from the colony, leaving William Hunniford, Mrs. Hunniford's elderly husband, behind.

They told Judge Harry Dingeman, the one-man grand jury, they had not seen Purnell since last Christmas and that members of the cult did not know his present whereabouts.

Covers Two Decades

The story they told covered two decades of blind submission to Purnell's faith; dwell on love that was frustrated and denied; marriages consummated by lottery and lacking even in common affection; of gradual loss of faith and the final decision to break the ties of almost a lifetime; a decision that culminated last night in a romantic secret flight.

But for a gossip railroad station agent, their flight might have remained a romantic flight.

The pair told the grand jury they had been childhood sweethearts in the colony, but when the time came to marry the elders of the Purnell church told them their love was only the forbidden lust of the flesh. So Hill's name was placed in a hat at one of the group marriage lotteries and was drawn by Clotta Ward, a 15-year-old girl. That was 16 years ago, and Hill, renouncing his own desires, married Clotta, while Lillian waited Hunniford, old enough to be her father.

Mrs. Hill Left in 1913

In 1913, Mrs. Hill lost faith in Purnell and left the colony, Hill said, and the same year obtained a divorce from him. He testified that before her departure she told him that "King" Benjamin had had improper relations with her prior to their marriage.

"At first I believed her; then I didn't now I don't know what to think," Hill told reporters.

Hill said he continued at the colony and became manager of the land, which has toured the entire country. He became a familiar figure to many theater audiences during the land's vaudeville engagements when he delivered an address from the stage at each performance.

In his spare time at home Hill worked in the colony print shop, and there he again met his boyhood sweetheart, now a fellow employee.

The testimony of gross immorality on the part of Benjamin, presented at Grand Rapids in a civil suit last month, was the last straw according to Hill and Mrs. Hunniford. They decided to quit the colony, let Hunniford obtain a divorce and then marry.

The sudden group marriages at the colony last week hastened their plans, for Mrs. Smith, a 20-year-old girl, drew Hill's name in the wedding lottery and wanted to marry him. Hill objected so strenuously, he testified, that Mrs. Smith abandoned hope and drew again.

Hill's testimony, state officials said, contained a number of important leads which will be developed later. Mrs. Hunniford knew little about the alleged revels in Shiloh, the home of "King" Benjamin and "Queen" Mary Purnell, she said. She told the grand jury that she had never been molested by Purnell.

The frequent references to the followers of Purnell as "Israelites" has caused some people to believe the members of the cult were Jews. It was discovered today when leading Jews protested against the idea.

There are no Jews in the House of David.

Lord Cecil Would Have League of Nations Settle Dispute

New York, April 27.—Ending his tour of America, Lord Robert Cecil, league of nations champion, today expressed before an audience here a wish that some great power would ask the league to intervene in the Ruhr.

He declared the time was ripe for the league to take up the Ruhr situation, the reparations question involved and the demands of France that her safety and security be definitely guaranteed by other major powers.

DISORDER IN MARINE STRIKE

"Mutiny" Is Reported Aboard Vessel off San Pedro

San Francisco, April 27.—The first disorder of I. W. W. timber and marine workers in the Pacific states was an affair aboard the tank steamer Solemnitas she was about to sail from San Pedro, California, late yesterday.

The event was described by the ship officers as a "mutiny," but as the vessel did not return to the dock few details were available.

About 1,800 dock workers quit at San Pedro yesterday, demanding a wage of $1 an hour and a 44-hour week, double pay for overtime and repeal of the state syndicalism act.

New Orleans, April 27.—Eight arrests here as a result of a strike of transport workers of the I. W. W. were made by the police today. The men were picked up near the water front and charged with loitering.

MORSE TRIAL IS DELAYED

Qualification of Juror Assailed by Defense

Washington, April 27.—There was some doubt when court convened whether the Morse trial would be resumed immediately. The question of the qualification of one of the jurors sitting in the case in the District of Columbia supreme court was brought up yesterday by counsel in private conference with Justice Stafford.

Shirley Justice Stafford held the juror to be disqualified, a mistrial would be the immediate result, attorneys said. The government, it was indicated, would seek another trial on two indictments charging Charles Morse, his two sons, and four others with conspiring to defraud the government on war-time ship contracts.

WALL PAPER PAINTING DECORATING

Here is a western type house which is practically square—27.4 wide by 25.4 deep—but which is ingeniously designed to give a low-lying, hospitable effect. This is done by accenting the horizontal lines. Notice the gable, with its ridge running horizontally; the shadow cast by the wide eaves; the belt course above the porch roof; the wide portico; the breadth of the grouped windows and the location of living porch and entry, opposite each other on each side.

Large Dining Room

This dining room is more than just a place to eat. With pairs of casements on two sides, there is a view across living porch and rear garden, and lots of chance for sun and air. Two corner china cases of a simple, appropriate design occupy the adjacent rear corners.

Most housewives would find the kitchen entirely satisfactory. Range, work table, sink and dresser are conveniently grouped to economize steps and to get the greatest amount of light where most needed. An inside basement stair case to the rear entry also spares the kitchen floor much tracking. A place is provided for the refrigerator in the small rear entry shown at the left.

The downstairs layout is completed by the den, at the front, on the left of the living room. Bookcases and a built-in seat surround the front casements.

Bright Bedrooms

The upstairs has three bedrooms, all light and airy. In each there is plenty of unbroken wall space, so that the bed does not have to be in the cross-current of air. There is a generous closet in each, and one of them also is provided with a built-in chest of trays. It is enclosed behind a regular interior. A similar arrangement in the hall takes care of the household linens.

The bath room, just at the head of the stair has a built-in tub. The room is amply ventilated by a pair of casements

In the interior of such a house, woodwork and built-in features of the simplest lines are most appropriate. This applies equally to the movable furnishings. Any desired finish may be used, because the architectural type of the house is strictly modern American.

If You Like Large Airy Bedrooms This Home Should Appeal to You

PAINT and PAINT

Poor quality paint soon cracks and loses its lustre. High quality paint holds its lustre for a long period and does not crack. Whether it's the exterior of your house you're going to paint or the interior, see that you get the best grade paint only. We carry a full stock of the highest grade paints, oils, leads and painters' supplies. There's a satisfaction in using our products.

WALL PAPER PAINTING DECORATING

Here is a western type house which is practically square—27 1/2 wide by 25 1/2 deep—but which is ingeniously designed to give a low-lying, hospitable effect. This is done by accenting the horizontal lines. Notice the gable, with its ridge running horizontally; the shadow cast by the wide eaves; the belt course above the porch roof; the wide portico, the breadth of the grouped windows and the location of living porch and entry, opposite each other on each side.

Large Dining Room

This dining room is more than just a place to eat. With pairs of casements on two sides, there is a view across living porch and rear garden, and lots of chance for sun and air. Two corner china cabinets of a simple, appropriate design occupy the adjacent rear corners.

Most housewives would find the kitchen entirely satisfactory. Range, work table, sink and dresser are conveniently grouped to economize steps and to get the greatest amount of light where most needed. An inside basement stair case to the rear entry also spares the kitchen floor much tracking. A place is provided for the refrigerator in the small rear entry shown at the left.

The downstairs layout is completed by the den, at the front, on the left of the living room. Bookcases, and a built-in seat surround the front casements.

Bright Bedrooms

The upstairs has three bedrooms, all light and airy. In each there is plenty of unbroken wall space, so that the bed does not have to be in the cross-current of air. There is a generous closet in each, and one of them also is provided with a built-in chest of trays. It is enclosed behind a regular interior. A similar arrangement in the hall takes care of the household linens.

The bath room, just at the head of the stair has a built-in tub. The room is amply ventilated by a pair of casements

In the interior of such a house, woodwork and built-in features of the simplest lines are most appropriate. This applies equally to the movable furnishings. Any desired finish may be used, because the architectural type of the house is strictly modern American.

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR

In considering plans to solve the problem of an adequate water supply for Bismarck, the City Commission has wisely taken into consideration the feasibility of providing its own power to pump the water thus placing wholly within the hands of the city commission the matter of rate making.

Whether a new plant is built or the present one purchased and needed additions made, the city should make provision to pump its own water so that at no stage of the proceedings will it be necessary to submit to the railroad commission or place in jeopardy complete control of the water system.

Regulation of utility rates under the railroad commission has not been a success. There are evidences of great discrepancies in the various cities of the state.

Grand Forks for instance where energy to man the waterworks pumps and light the streets is furnished by a private utility as is the case in Bismarck, gets power cheaper than Bismarck. That city is nearly twice as big as Bismarck. It pumps all its water for one year at a cost for electrical energy of $5,400 a year. The cost of energy in Bismarck for pumping water for one year is $8,000. This was occasioned because the state railroad commission cancelled a very favorable contract then in existence which called for pumping the water into the reservoirs at one-half the present cost.

Fargo a city nearly three times the size of Bismarck pumps all its water at a cost for electrical energy of about $8,400 or slightly more than what is taxed against the Bismarck water consumers.

Comparison of rates paid utilities for pumping water in other cities shows that Bismarck is far out of line. Evidently there is need for a complete revamping of all these rates. Either Bismarck is paying too much or the other towns are paying too little. St. Paul, however, gets its water pumped by a private utility for six-tenths of a cent per kilowatt as against more than an average of 4 cents per kilowatt in Bismarck in the center of a supply of cheap fuel. If the city is equipped to perform this service itself, it will be the best little regulator of rates possible and save the city commission some of the embarrassments and expenses of fighting rate cases before the state utility board—cases that can be started at the slightest provocation and impose heavy burdens on the city and the utilities involved.

Returning to street lighting. Grand Forks is noted for being a well lighted city. Its residence district is especially well lighted and the white way is not curtailed as is the case in Bismarck. The cost of electric energy for Grand Forks lighting system a year is approximately $5,600 as against $7,246.68 for Bismarck. Grand Forks has a flat rate for its white way instead of being on a meter. That city can afford under existing rates to keep its streets lighted while Bismarck by force of necessity must curtail its lights until certain sections of the city are so poorly lighted as to be positively dangerous for auto traffic. It is a problem that the city commission is up against, but which it hopes to solve with the earnest cooperation of the voters.

The people of Bismarck can get their pencils out and figure that it is costing this city for electric energy to pump water and light the streets—a grand total of nearly $15,000 a year as against $11,000 in Grand Forks. If some saving can be made in this item and other utility charges, the people may not feel the burden of extra taxation for direct benefits in the way of improved service and a city owned water plant. By all means the city should provide its own pumping station and end forever the chances of its water rates being the football of politics and endless litigation.

The way is clear and the city commission can get support for its program by promising the voters that it will take steps to end the present unequal charges as compared to what other cities of the state are paying.

Granting that service is good in this city and it is—so it is in Grand Forks and Fargo at a much smaller cost as far as the water pumpage and street lighting are concerned.

BREAKERS AHEAD

Henry Ford has gone through the last several years acclaimed by most people, assailed by a few, but acknowledged by all as a powerful and successful man. There are some, however, who appear not willing to admit he is either powerful as a presidential candidate or that he will be successful. Pipp's Weekly, published in Detroit by a man who says he formerly was associated with Mr. Ford, doesn't have the indications of one with the pip. It is bristling with attacks on Henry Ford, charges him with retaining $29,000,000 war profits despite a promise to give the amount to the government, and attacks his good faith in the Lincoln Motors deal. Mr. Ford may not be worried; probably isn't. But there is enough in the magazine to indicate that there are rough roads ahead for Mr. Ford if he runs for President. Still rough roads are said to have no terror for Ford.

UNLUCKY

Why is the $2 bill considered so unlucky that Uncle Sam thinks of withdrawing it from circulation?

Walter Allman, who draws the Duffs, suggests maybe it's because "people are afraid of spending a two for a one."

Superstitions usually start among gamblers, Pullman porters and actors. The one about the $2 bill probably began with gamblers, for a $2 banknote looks worse to a gambler than a black cat or "the hand the dead man held."

PAINLESS

Surgeons had to operate on Edward Higgins for hernia. They didn't care to risk his heart by putting him to sleep with ether. So they hooked a headset on Ed and a radio concert from WJZ kept his mind off the operation until it was over. Pain gets worse when we concentrate our attention on it. Most of your pains, pleasures also, are imaginary.

GUDMUND GRIMSON

Gudmund Grimson is state's attorney for Cavalier county in North Dakota. He was not born in the United States; his parents brought him as a baby from Iceland, settling in the northwestern state. He worked his way through the University of North Dakota, and was graduated with honors in 1904. Later he attended the University of Chicago, studied law, went back to his home state, and was admitted to the bar. Since then he has worked at his profession. It is a story that could be told of thousands of residents of America, the story of an ever upward climb, despite difficulties. There is nothing unusual enough about the bare facts in a land of opportunity. But the use to which he has put the ability developed through taking advantage of opportunity—that is another story.

Martin Tabert, eighteen years old, lived in Cavalier county. He went to Florida to escape the rigors of the northern climate. James Robert Jones, sheriff of Leon county, arrested him because he was riding on a train without a ticket. Unable to pay a fine of about $25, he was taken in charge by the sheriff and turned over to the Putnam Lumber Company, lessee of Leon county prisoners. Walter Higginbotham was a whipping boss in the lumber camp. He flogged the youth severely, as he admits. Tabert died a few days later. Dr. T. Capera Jones, camp physician, returned a death certificate, saying the boy had died of pneumonia. For some time the family believed that. Then other information was received that threw doubt on it. Gudmund Grimson became interested, though the case was not in his jurisdiction. He went to Florida, investigated, and was convinced that a youth, convicted of nothing more serious than a misdemeanor, had been beaten to death, a victim of peonage. He set machinery in motion to remedy the wrong. The North Dakota legislature asked "in a spirit of comity and friendship" that the Florida legislature investigate.

What has happened since is attracting a good deal of attention. A grand jury inquired into the Tabert case, and like Gudmund Grimson, became convinced that murder had been committed. Walter Higginbotham has been indicted. In the meantime an effort is being made to wipe out peonage in Florida. The Tabert case has drawn attention to other convict camps in the state and evidence has shown that whipping prisoners is common. The theory seems to be that the camps could not exist unless the men and boys were kept in a continual state of fear. They ought not to exist. Maybe one reason why they do is that the sheriff got $20 for himself every time he delivered a prisoner. Gudmund Grimson, a plain, ordinary prosecuting attorney, has found it within his power to start a reform of great significance hundreds of miles from where he lived. America could stand a few more Gudmund Grimsoms. —Indianapolis (Ind.) News.

The theory seems to be that the camps could not exist unless the men and boys were kept in a continual state of fear. They ought not to exist. Maybe one reason why they do is that the sheriff got $20 for himself every time he delivered a prisoner. ## THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE

ETIQUETTE

'T WAS A RUMMY JUNKET
OUR CONGRESSMEN HAD

By Harry B. Hunt
 NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington, April 28.—Congressional junkets often have been branded as "rummy" affairs, but it remained for the recent cruise of the navy transport Henderson to Panama and the West Indies to win the honest-to-goodness sobriquet of "the rum junket."

The Henderson, it should be pointed out, traveled with full diplomatic immunity as to search and seizure of spirituous liquors prohibited by the Volstead act. She was a government ship, carrying for the most part government officials. She sailed from and returned to the Washington navy yard, and departing guests were free to send ashore handbags, trunks and other packages without being spied on or queried about by inquisitive revenue or prohibition agents.

Social and Personal

Lorenzo Belk Weds Almont Teacher

The marriage of Miss Gladys Beattie Lindstrom of Glen Ullin and Lorenzo H. Belk, son of Capt. John M. Belk of Bismarck took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. L. Bean of Glen Ullin. Rev. H. C. Postlethwaite of the Presbyterian church of Bismarck, read the marriage service, which took place in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the family.

Mrs. Belk was educated in the public schools of Glen Ullin, being a graduate of the high school in that city. Later she attended the University of Minnesota, while during the past school term she has been teaching in the Almont schools.

Mr. Belk has been connected with the state highway department since the inclusion of the World War in which he served as second lieutenant in the 309th Engineers from Jamestown. He graduated from the local high school and attended the University of North Dakota.

AT THE MOVIES

NORMA TALMADGE AT THE ELTING MONDAY. Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien will again be seen together in "The Voice From the Minaret," which is coming to the Elting theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

These two have won the appellation of "the perfect screen lovers," and motion picture fans everywhere have hailed with delight the news that they would once more be able to see O'Brien cast as leading man to Miss Talmadge.

In "The Voice From the Minaret," which was directed by Frank Lloyd from Robert Richens' novel, the star plays the part of Lady Adrienne, wife of the governor of Bombay, while O'Brien has the role of Andrew Fabian, an Englishman who makes a trip to the Holy Land for the purpose of study, and finds love on the sands of the desert.

"The Voice From the Minaret" is declared to be the best picture in which Miss Talmadge has ever appeared.

EGG SPROUTS LEGS. AND WALKS AWAY. Larry, Senon has accomplished a feat in making film stunts that has baffled the old timers. The trick is one that cannot be explained by double exposure or any mechanical device. Even stop camera action will not account for the uncanny and at the same time amusing antics of the egg which Larry uses in "The Count of Jupiter," which will be shown at Capitol Theatre on Monday.

As the clerk in a store, Larry goes to get some eggs for a customer. One rolls away and Larry goes after it. The egg stops, sprouts two honest-to-goodness legs, not the mechanical kind; but flesh and blood legs that pulsate and move. The legs carry the egg wherever it wants to go, and something inside the egg directs it with human intelligence.

Some funny sequences follow in which the egg cuts up in general, and then Larry gets a swat at it. The result is the production of cute little duckling on the head of a man.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR. All Sir Knights are requested to meet at the Temple at 8:45 a. m. Monday a. m. (full uniform) to meet Grand Master Leonidas P. Newby and also Grand Commander Eddy. Visiting Knights invited. J. L. Bell, Commander.

MRS. J. WATKINS IS VICTIM OF STROKE TODAY

Apoplexy Is Fatal to Aged Lady, Who Passes at Home of Son

Mrs. Sarah Jane Reynolds Watkins, 33, resident of Bismarck for seventeen years died this morning at the family residence on 510 Fifth Street as a result of a second stroke of apoplexy which she suffered four days ago. About two months ago she had her first stroke, but had recovered and had attended church the Sunday before her death.

Mrs. Watkins was born in Lexington, Ky., Jan. 17, 1839, and moved with her parents to Jefferson county, Ia., in 1843. She was married to John F. Watkins, Feb. 14, 1861, at Libertyville, Ia. Six children were born to this union. Flora M., Jennie, Frank L., John W., James F. and Frances A. Watkins, all of who survive the deceased except Jennie who died at the age of a year and 17 days, and were at her bedside. Mr. Watkins also survives his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins moved to Freeman county, Ia., in 1872, where they settled on the prairie and lived on a farm until 1906, when they moved to North Dakota. The deceased united with the church when 12 years of age and has been a member and attendant of the church for 71 years. The remains will be in state at the family residence between 2 and 3 o'clock Monday.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence at 510 Fifth Street, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

by the Women's Community Council to take charge of this work. Clinics will be held at the Masonic Temple Tuesday afternoon, May 8, all day Wednesday, May 9, and during the morning of May 10, with Dr. Louise Boutelle, of the United States Public Health Department in charge. The week will be devoted to teaching mothers the proper care of their children. At the temple during the clinics there will be on display posters and literature showing all the most modern ways of caring for the health of infants, their feeding, bathing, and sleeping habits. The clubs of the city, represented through the Women's Community Council, have appointed Mrs. Edward Bannon, chairman of the committee in charge of Infant Welfare Week.

Mrs. A. M. Braund, chairman of parade committee, Mrs. W. L. Nussle, and Mrs. A. H. Barrett. All the women of Bismarck are cooperating to make this a successful as well as beneficial undertaking for the people of Bismarck.

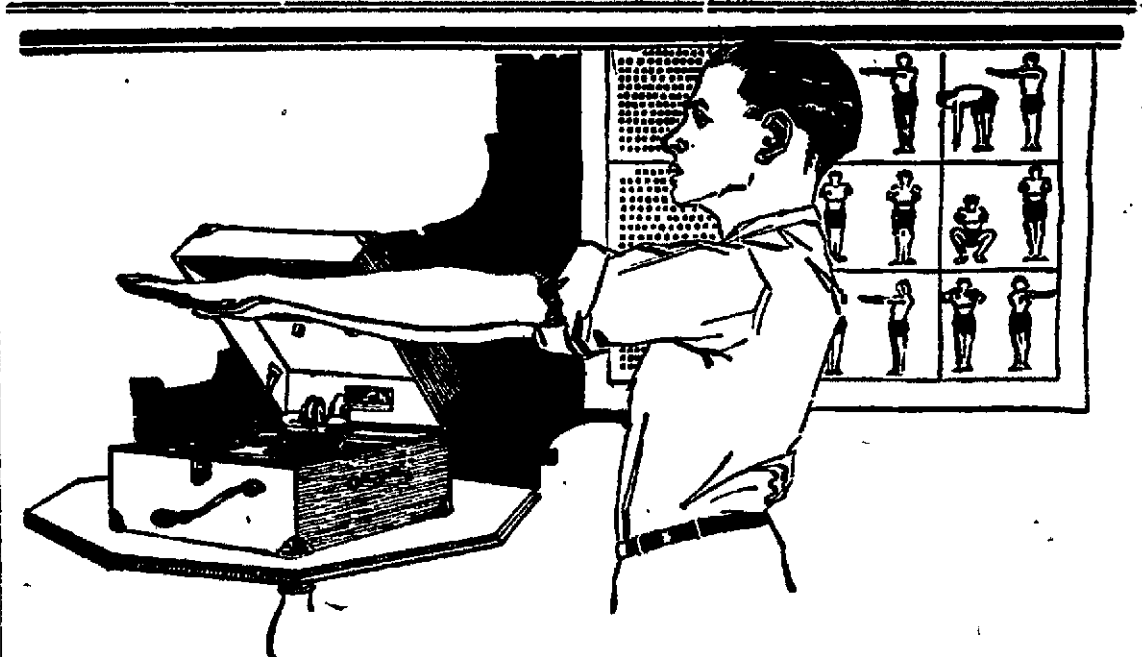

An intensive campaign is being put on by the women in charge to assure that all the babies of the city will be brought to the clinics for examination.

A special lecture on infant welfare will be delivered by Dr. Boutelle at the Auditorium Wednesday evening. The week will be concluded with an infant parade through the streets of Bismarck, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when a number of unique features are scheduled for the occasion. The parade of babies and children of all ages will be led by St. Mary's Boys' Band, recently organized by Rev. Fr. Slag and the high school Glee Club will form a unit in the parade. The children will be grouped and appear in costume.

Don't starve the kiddies

The natural foods for growing children are whole wheat cereals and milk. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is better than ordinary porridges for children because the crispness of its shreds encourages thorough chewing, and that develops good bones and sound teeth. Children like the nutty flavor of the crisp, tasty shreds of whole wheat. It contains everything their growing bodies need, including the BRAN which is so useful in stimulating bowel movement. Two Biscuits with milk or cream make a perfect meal and cost but a few cents.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—eaten with butter, soft cheese or marmalade. A free sample of Shredded Wheat with our new booklet, "The Happy Way to Health," is sent free on request.

AT THE MOVIES

NORMA TALMADGE AT THE ELTINGE MONDAY. Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien will again be seen together in "The Voice From the Minaret," which is coming to the Eltinge theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

These two have won the appellation of "the perfect screen lovers," and motion picture fans everywhere have hailed with delight the news that they would once more be able to see O'Brien cast as leading man to Miss Talmadge.

EGG SPROUTS LEGS AND WALKS AWAY. Larry Senon has accomplished a feat in making film stunts that has baffled the old timers. The trick is one that cannot be explained by double exposure or any mechanical device.

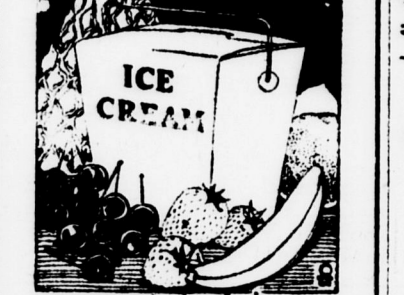

Even stop camera action will not account for the uncanny and at the same time amusing antics of the egg which Larry uses in "The Counter Jumper," which will be shown at Capitol Theatre on Monday.

As the clerk in a store, Larry goes to get some eggs for a customer. One rolls away and Larry goes after it. The egg stops, sprouts two honest-to-goodness legs, not the mechanical kind; but flesh and blood legs that pulsate and move.

The legs carry the egg wherever it wants to go, and something inside the egg directs it with human intelligence.

Some funny sequences follow in which the egg cuts up in general, and then Larry gets a swat at it. The result is the production of cute little duckling on the head of a man.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR All Sir Knights are requested to meet at the Temple at 8:45 a. m. Monday a. m. (full uniform) to meet Grand Master Leonidas P. Newby and also Grand Commander Eddy. Visiting Knights invited. J. L. Bell, Commander.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR

In considering plans to solve the problem of an adequate water supply for Bismarck, the City Commission has wisely taken into consideration the feasibility of providing its own power to pump the water thus placing wholly within the hands of the city commission the matter of rate making.
Whether a new plant is built or the present one purchased and needed additions made, the city should make provision to pump its own water so that at no stage of the proceedings will it be necessary to submit to the railroad commission or place in jeopardy complete control of the water system.
Regulation of utility rates under the railroad commission has not been a success. There are evidences of great discrepancies in the various cities of the state.
Grand Forks for instance where energy to man the waterworks pumps and light the streets is furnished by a private utility as is the case in Bismarck, gets power cheaper than Bismarck. That city is nearly twice as big as Bismarck. It pumps all its water for one year at a cost for electrical energy of $5,400 a year. The cost of energy in Bismarck for pumping water for one year is $8,000. This was occasioned because the state railroad commission cancelled a very favorable contract then in existence which called for pumping the water into the reservoirs at one-half the present cost.
Fargo a city nearly three times the size of Bismarck pumps all its water at a cost for electrical energy of about $8,400 or slightly more than what is taxed against the Bismarck water consumers.
Comparison of rates paid utilities for pumping water in other cities shows that Bismarck is far out of line. Evidently there is need for a complete revamping of all these rates. Either Bismarck is paying too much or the other towns are paying too little. St. Paul, however, gets its water pumped by a private utility for six-tenths of a cent per kilowatt as against more than an average of 4 cents per kilowatt in Bismarck in the center of a supply of cheap fuel. If the city is equipped to perform this service itself, it will be the best little regulator of rates possible and save the city commission some of the embarrassments and expenses of fighting rate cases before the state utility board—cases that can be started at the slightest provocation and impose heavy burdens on the city and the utilities involved.

Returning to street lighting. Grand Forks is noted for being a well lighted city. Its residence district is especially well lighted and the white way is not curtailed as is the case in Bismarck. The cost of electric energy for Grand Forks lighting system a year is approximately $5,600 as against $7,246.68 for Bismarck. Grand Forks has a flat rate for its white way instead of being on a meter. That city can afford under existing rates to keep its streets lighted while Bismarck by force of necessity must curtail its lights until certain sections of the city are so poorly lighted as to be positively dangerous for auto traffic. It is a problem that the city commission is up against, but which it hopes to solve with the earnest cooperation of the voters.
The people of Bismarck can get their pencils out and figure that it is costing this city for electric energy to pump water and light the streets—a grand total of nearly $15,000 a year as against $11,000 in Grand Forks. If some saving can be made in this item and other utility charges, the people may not feel the burden of extra taxation for direct benefits in the way of improved service and a city owned water plant. By all means the city should provide its own pumping station and end forever the chances of its water rates being the football of politics and endless litigation.
The way is clear and the city commission can get support for its program by promising the voters that it will take steps to end the present unequal charges as compared to what other cities of the state are paying.

Granting that service is good in this city and it is—so it is in Grand Forks and Fargo at a much smaller cost as far as the water pumpage and street lighting are concerned.

BREAKERS AHEAD
Henry Ford has gone through the last several years acclaimed by most people, assailed by a few, but acknowledged by all as a powerful and successful man. There are some, however, who appear not willing to admit he is either powerful as a presidential candidate or that he will be successful. Pipp's Weekly, published in Detroit by a man who says he formerly was associated with Mr. Ford, doesn't have the indications of one with the pip. It is bristling with attacks on Henry Ford, charges him with retaining $29,000,000 war profits despite a promise to give the amount to the government, and attacks his good faith in the Lincoln Motors deal. Mr. Ford may not be worried; probably isn't. But there is enough in the magazine to indicate that there are rough roads ahead for Mr. Ford if he runs for President. Still rough roads are said to have no terror for Ford.

UNLUCKY
Why is the $2 bill considered so unlucky that Uncle Sam thinks of withdrawing it from circulation?
Walter Allman, who draws the Duffs, suggests maybe it's because "people are afraid of spending a two for a one."
Superstitions usually start among gamblers, Pullman porters and actors. The one about the $2 bill probably began with gamblers, for a $2 banknote looks worse to a gambler than a black cat or "the hand the dead man held."

PAINLESS
Surgeons had to operate on Edward Higgins for hernia. They didn't care to risk his heart by putting him to sleep with ether. So they hooked a headset on Ed and a radio concert from WJZ kept his mind off the operation until it was over. Pain gets worse when we concentrate our attention on it. Most of your pains, pleasures also, are imaginary.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important questions which are being discussed in the press of the day.

GUDMUND GRIMSON

Gudmund Grimsen is state's attorney for Cavalier county in North Dakota. He was not born in the United States; his parents brought him as a baby from Iceland, settling in the northwestern state. He worked his way through the University of North Dakota, and was graduated with honors in 1904. Later he attended the University of Chicago, studied law, went back to his home state, and was admitted to the bar. Since then he has worked at his profession. It is a story that could be told of thousands of residents of America, the story of an ever upward climb, despite difficulties. There is nothing unusual enough about the bare facts in a land of opportunity. But the use to which he has put the ability developed through taking advantage of opportunity—that is another story.
Martin Tabett, eighteen years old, lived in Cavalier county. He went to Florida to escape the heat of the northern climate. James Robert Jones, sheriff of Leon county, arrested him because he was riding on a train without a ticket. Unable to pay a fine of about $25, he was taken in charge by the sheriff and turned over to the Putnam Lumber Company, lessee of Leon county prisoners. Walter Higginbotham was a whipping boss in the lumber camp. He flogged the south-severely, as he admits. Tabett died a few days later. Dr. T. Chas. Jones, camp physician, returned a death certificate, saying the boy had died of pneumonia. For some time the family believed that. Then other information was received that threw doubt on it. Gudmund Grimsen became interested. Though the case was not in his jurisdiction, he went to Florida, investigated, and was convinced that a south-severely of nothing more serious than a misadventure, had been beaten to death, a victim of peonage. He set machinery in motion to remedy the wrong. The North Dakota legislature asked "in a spirit of comity and friendship" that the Florida legislature investigate.
What has happened since is attracting the best of attention. Gudmund Grimsen, a plain ordinary prosecuting attorney, has found it within his power to start a reform on great significance. Hundreds of other cases from all over America could stand a few more Gudmund Grimsens.—Indianapolis (Ind.) News.

RINGING NOTRE DAME'S BELLS

Notre Dame's famous bells are to be rung in future through the medium of electric motors, and it is possible that sentimental Parisians will mourn the bells as if they were dead. In fact, Victor Hugo has made it necessary that the whole world shall think of the bells as being rung by hand in accordance with the tradition which generations of mankind have approved. But is the change a cause for regret? The old bells are still there and will ring, after the fashion, with their accustomed tones, and what matters it that electricity is to be the medium through which the finger controls their voices? People say that electric motors are materialistic and lacking in atmosphere. But is a motor really more materialistic than a piece of rope? Is its atmosphere less romantic than that of a lured hemp? Bell-cops have nothing to recommend them except their antiquity and the recognition which literature has accorded them; and it is probable that when in some future century, an inventor suggests ringing the old bells by radio, sentimentalists will again sorrow over the passing of the romantic motor.—Baltimore Sun.

THE FAULT OF LEADERSHIP

President Harding, in his notable address to members of the Associated Press in New York, threw searching light on the present-day fault of political leadership. The days of uncracking that challenged an early and striking type of leadership have largely passed away. Their work is done. The new challenge to leadership in determining the relation of the United States to world order and in knitting up the robe of industry rent by war.
Beyond this, however, President Harding shows that the drift toward him and experiments in pure democracy is greatly responsible for the failure of leadership. Parties have given place to groups and blocs that are essentially different in their nature. A great political party invites a majority vote and following. It is committed to programs and motivated by principles. It is responsible to the people. The party system has thus been the seed-ground of notable leadership.
A large, on the other hand, represents a small minority with a narrow and selfish interest. It challenges a loyalty that promotes only a fragment of minority interest. It gives room for individual

PLANNING PAVILION

Promoters of the Heart River Amusement company which has been given a concession by the city park commission to erect a dancing pavilion, boat house, etc., in Chautauqua park, are procuring plans and expect shortly to have interesting announcements for the public. Arrangements are to be made whereby private owners of boats will be able to secure storage space in the boat houses where the property will be cared for at all times.

'T WAS A RUMMY JUNKET
OUR CONGRESSMEN HAD

By Harry B. Hunt
NEA Staff Correspondent
Washington, April 28. Congressmen junkets often have been branded "rummy" affairs, but it is claimed for the recent cruise of the navy transport Henderson to Panama and the West Indies to win the honest-to-goodness sobriquet of "the rum junket."
The Henderson, it should be pointed out, is a full-fledged diplomatic immunity as to search and seizure of spirituous liquors prohibited by the Volstead act. She was a government ship, carrying for the most part government officials. She sailed from Washington and returned to the Washington navy yard, and departing guests were free to send ashore hand-bags, trunks and other packages without being searched or questioned about by revenue or prohibition agents.
Who, therefore, out of the 70 members of Congress, lame ducks and new-comers, correspondents and photographers who made the trip on the Henderson, the large majority took advantage of the opportunity to bring in, for medicinal or other purposes, liquors and stimulants to the limit imposed by their consciences and pocketbooks.
One of the best informed of the junketeers is authority for the statement that there were just five men in the party who did not bring in at least a few bottles of booze. One member of Congress had an entire trunk full. Another was reported to have returned with three trunks more than he started with.
Junketeers who did not care for liquors or who could not bring their consciences to permit their playing rum-runners on a government ship did not a milder thrill by loading up at Havana with fine cigars which came through without paying Uncle Sam any duty.
Yes, it certainly was both a rum and rummy junket!

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts
After the tank of the tin soldiers had knocked down the fort of the wooden soldiers in Bing-Bang Land, there was a council of war.
"What shall we do?" asked General Gold Blaid.
"Rebuild the fort," suggested somebody.
"That won't do any good," declared the general. "The tank will come right back and knock it down again."
"Drop heels on it out of an airplane and blow it up," suggested somebody else.
"I know a better way than that," said Nick.
"What?" everybody wanted to know.
"Dig a deep hole and cover it with branches so it can't be seen," said Nick. "That's the way they enter tigers."
"But how do we know which way the tank is going?" declared General Gold Blaid. "We can't pick up the hole and run around after it."
Nick laughed. "No, Sir! You are pretty right, sir! But I thought we might lay a trap for it. Sort of like catching a mouse into a trap with a piece of cheese."
"Go on," commanded General Gold Blaid listening attentively.
"We might put something on top of the branches," said Nick. "Something the tank will wish to run over very much. Then, ker-flip, ker-flip! Down they will go to the bottom and we can capture them."
"How?" cried the general. "Come on, men. Dig us hard as you can."
So they all dug and soon had a fine deep hole covered so cleverly with branches you wouldn't have guessed it was there in a hundred years. Right in the middle they put a wooden cannon.
Along came the tank just then like a big bug. Seeing the gun it went right at it.
"Crash!" It had fallen right into the trap.
"Hurrah!" cried the wooden soldiers. "You are our prisoners!"

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

When Jack came back from his breakfast, which took him an unconsciously long time, my selfishity had reached the hysterical stage and he found me with my head buried in the pillow shaking with sobs.
I fully expected him to take me in his arms and comfort me. He had never seen me cry before and even had given me anything I wanted when I wept. But Jack did nothing of the kind. Instead he said, "Leslie, I wish you would get up, wash your face and come out here in the sitting room. I am at least sensible of not reasonable."
This unkind remark did not make me any happier, but to show him that I realized the full import of the words "to love, honor and obey" I immediately went into the bath room and bathed my eyes in cold water.
When I came out and seated myself it was with my face to the light. For the first time in my life I wanted Jack to see me looking my worst. I wanted him to see the ravages his unkindness had made.
He looked at me appraisingly, I thought, and after a little hesitancy he began.
"I am sorry this has happened, Leslie."
"Not more than I," I interrupted. "But," he continued as if I had not spoken, "perhaps it is just as well that we come at once to an understanding."
"All my life, Leslie, I have been very jealous of my personal liberty. You have met my mother and you must realize how I have had to fight for it. And even now that I am married to you, dear girl, I must have certain things both mental and material that are my very own if we would either of us be happy."
Again I interrupted. "Then we are not one."
"Use your brain, Leslie, surely you have one," he impatiently remarked. "Of course we are not one. No sensible person believes that a few words mumbled by someone over two people make them one and indivisible."
"That part of the marriage ceremony which is supposed to fuse two people into one was conceived in that beginning of time when man was the absolute custodian of his wife. They were one and he was the one."
"In this day and age we know that no woman will stand for this and if I know you, Leslie, you will stand for it less than any other woman. I certainly have no disposition to be a despot."
"I should hope not, although this morning—"
"Wait a moment," he commanded imperiously.
Instead I asked, "Do you really love me, Jack?"
"It is because I love you, Leslie, that I am trying to start off this momentous journey of wedded life with a clear understanding."
As Jack said this, through my eyes I seemed to see a gorgeous night when stars were twinkling back love to the serene moon. My head was on Jack's shoulder. His lips were so near my ear that I could feel his tremulous breath.
"Darling," he whispered tenderly, "you are the one woman I have ever known who always understands."

Provide Uniforms For Band Boys

That members of the Mandan band will have uniforms was decided at a meeting of the directors of the commercial club Thursday evening. The club took action after the subject had been presented by four representatives from the band, H. M. Leonard, Joseph Bergheim, H. J. Tavis and R. R. Lutz. As the local band is considered one of the best in the state it was decided that the members must have some kind of uniform since they have never had anything distinctive in the past.
Other subjects considered at the meeting was a rural telephone line, and a baseball club.
T. C. Kennedy, chairman of a special telephone committee, gave a report on the advisability of building a telephone line to connect the farms with Mandan.
The efforts of the local boys in developing a baseball club was endorsed by the directors. It was decided that the baseball uniforms should be financed by popular subscription rather than by selling advertising as originally planned.

32 Pieces Compose Mandan's Band

The Mandan band this year will be composed of 32 different instruments, according to the announcement of Joseph Bergheim, leader.
At a joint meeting of the park commission and the band next week the plan of arranging weekly concerts, either uptown or at the Chautauqua park during the summer will be considered.
Following is the personnel of the band:

DISCUSS BALL LEAGUE SUNDAY

A meeting will be held in Jamestown tomorrow at which representatives of Bismarck, Jamestown, Minot, Valley City and New Rockford are expected to discuss the final plans for the formation of an all-Dakota league baseball team for this year. A meeting of Bismarck men who have been raising funds for a local team is expected to be held Monday noon, at which time the situation will be canvassed and definite action upon the part of Bismarck taken.

My caddy is an excellent player, always showing a card between 70 and 80. Being a novice at the game, I am often perplexed as to the best way to make certain shots. The caddy is a very intelligent chap and has a clever way of imparting his knowledge. A keen golfing rivalry exists between myself and a very close friend. In several matches I have consulted with my caddy over certain shots, and profited greatly thereby. My friend claims I have no such right.

Friend golfer is decidedly in error. A player has a perfect right to ask advice of his caddy. This is a common practice, even among the leading players of the country.

If a player's ball is at rest on the fairway, and his opponent's ball strikes it, and deflects it into a hole on the course, what is the proper course to pursue? Must the ball be played from the hole, or has the player the right to lift and drop the ball without penalty? This happened in a match game between two bitter rivals and a serious argument arose as to the proper procedure.

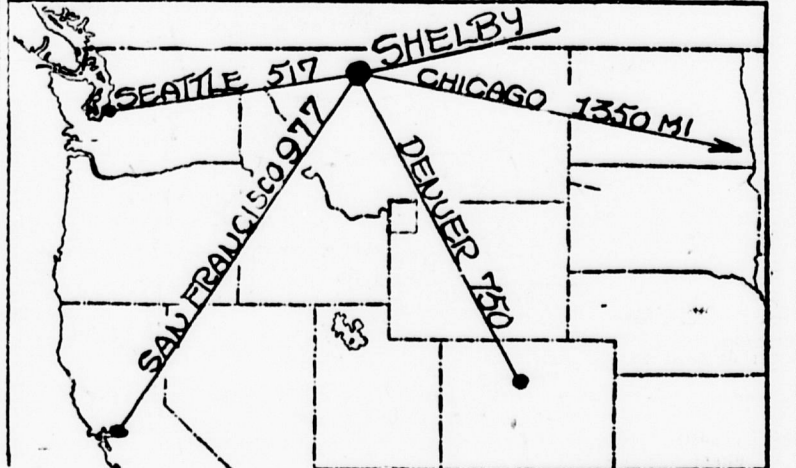

In match play, it is permissible to lift the ball and drop it without penalty, at the discretion of the player. In medal play the moved ball must be replaced before being played.

- Questions
- ONE—In event of a game that is forfeited, after it has gone beyond five innings, what is done with the records?
- TWO—What is the distance from the pitcher's box to the home plate?
- THREE—When is the catcher charged with a passed ball?
- FOUR—If while running down a player between the lines, in which four players take part, the runner is finally caught out for interference or running out of the line, do such players get credit with an assist?
- FIVE—In the major leagues, if a player is put out of the first game of a double header, may he play in the second contest?
- Answers
- ONE—In a game which has gone over five innings and is then forfeited, the records go into the averages as made.
- TWO—The distance is 60 feet 6 inches.

Once More There Be Rumors of Match Between Dempsey and Tom Gibbons

JACK DEMPSEY, TOMMY GIBBONS AND A MAP SHOWING JUST WHERE SHELBY, MONT., IS LOCATED.

Once more the words are full of rumors of a Jack Dempsey-Tommy Gibbons battle for the heavyweight title. It again reached the stage of tentative offers.

But thus far there has been nothing definite from either the Gibbons or Dempsey management to indicate such a meeting is being seriously considered. Gibbons' recent renewal of ring activities, in which he has spilled a number of naves and near-heavies, is responsible to the agitation for such a match with the Willamette conqueror.

The little town of Shelby, Mont., has stepped into the limelight, mo-

Cappon, Michigan Star Athlete, Closes Great Career At Ann Arbor School

By NEA Service.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 28.—Franklin Cappon, University of Michigan star, has closed his college athletic career. Thus passes from out the calcium glare one of the most illustrious as well as popular athletes who ever attended the Wolverine school.

"Cappon" as he is known around the campus, was a two-sport man, confining his activities to football and basketball. In the former, he was an exceptionally versatile player, having been used at end, tackle and in the backfield. In fact it seemed that whenever Yost was in need of a good griddler for a certain position, Cappon was generally the chap selected to fill the post.

However, it was at football where he earned the most fame, and through his terrific line-smashing tactics was regarded as the best line-plunger the Wolverines possessed since the days of "Pat" Smith and Johnny Mautsch. In 1921-22 Cappon was named on many of the second All-Conference and All-Western mythical elevens.

In basketball, he was pursued by an apparent jinx the first two seasons, illness one year and ineligibility another, preventing him from playing. This year, though, he was in the thick of the fight, and at back guard proved one of the mainstays of the team.

Cappon is a modest, retiring type, which has a great deal to do with his immense popularity, no doubt. Perhaps, though, his make-up and personality can best be illustrated by the following incident related by Assistant Coach George Little.

This episode cropped out just before Michigan took the field against Minnesota last fall. Captain Paul Goebel was injured and was not in the starting lineup. A new leader was needed. Cappon was appointed, it being his last football game of the maize and blue. But Cappon declined, saying, "Let Bernie Kirk be captain, he has worked hard all season and deserves the honor more than I do." And so the late Bernie Kirk led the Michigans in the final tilt of the 1922 campaign.

Cappon will graduate in June, and Michigan will miss "Cappon," not only athletically, but as a student as well.

Catcher Bassler Enjoys Unique Record; Wins Regular Berth First Day

For quite a few years now Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox has been rated as the premier catcher in the American League. And rightly too, for over a stretch of some 10 campaigns, "Little Ray" has displayed brilliant ability behind the bat.

Not far behind Schalk are Cy Perkins of the Athletics, "Hank" Severide, Browns; Steve O'Neill, Cleveland, and Wally Schang, Yankees. All first-class receivers and real assets to any club.

However, in picking star catchers, don't overlook Johnny Bassler of the Detroit Tigers, who, though he has been in the big show but two seasons is already being heralded as Schalk's most likely successor in back of the plate.

Brought to the Tigers from the Pacific coast by Ty Cobb in 1921, Bassler has shown remarkable improvement during the two years he has been in the majors, and many critics are of the opinion that he will be the circuit's leading catcher within the next two or three seasons. Some are even now acclaiming him as the smartest receiver in the junior loop.

When Bassler came to Detroit he turned a trick which is not very often put over by big league catchers nowadays. He broke in as the team's first-string receiver the initial day he appeared in a big league uniform.

It is not only behind the plate that Bassler stars. For he it known that Johnny is also a good hitter. In 1922 he led the catchers in this respect, clouting the old apple at a .323 clip. In fielding he ranked fourth, with a percentage of .986 in 117 games.

THREE—The catcher is charged with a passed ball when his failure to hold a legally delivered ball enables the batsman to reach first, or permits a base runner to advance.

FOUR—All the players who take part in the play are credited with an assist.

FIVE—The major leagues have a

THE TINY MITE SLOUGHS ONE

Hefnie Groh, diminutive third sacker of the New York Giants, met the old apple on the nose as this was snapped. It went for a three-bagger. He also added a home run to the day's total at bat in the first game of the season at Boston.

Billy Evans Says

Keep your eye on the ball. These and a score of other suggestions are a part of golf.

Every kind-hearted individual has a bit of advice that he feels sure will improve your game, when, as a matter of fact, it is certain to injure it. I have always believed that keeping your eye on the ball and following through with your swing were the two principal features of the golf game.

My opinion as to which is really the more important of the two essentials has always swung from time to time. Of course you can't hit the ball if you don't keep your eye on it. Incidentally, you cannot get much distance or accuracy unless you follow through with your swing.

Recently as I watched Jack Hutchison drive ball after ball down the fairway of the Miami, Fla., Country Club, getting uncanny accuracy and great distance to each drive, I wondered what he thought about it, who he figured was the basic fundamental of a good golfer.

"What is your greatest asset from a golfing point of view?" I asked Jack.

"Footwork," he replied, as he continued hitting them a mile. Hutchison is a little fellow, not weighing over 145 pounds, yet he hits a mighty long ball. You wonder how he does it.

"What is the greatest asset of any golfer?" I asked.

"In baseball the fellow who pulls away from the plate never amounts to very much as a hitter. In tennis foot faults are the most annoying of anything that can happen. Nothing will so quickly take away from his game more quickly than being constantly out of position. In bowling if a player doesn't approach the foul line properly, and isn't lined up with it when he lets the ball go, he isn't going to get much accuracy. It is needless for me to comment on what footwork means to a fighter."

"Footwork is as much, if not more, essential in golf than in any of the sports I have mentioned.

"First you must address the ball properly. Your feet must be correct as to distance. Then as you start to swing, the importance of footwork becomes even more manifest.

"It is rather difficult for me to try to explain this feature. Anyone who has ever tried to play golf knows just what I mean when I refer to footwork. Then as you start to swing, if you have something to think about because sooner or later most people will play it."

"Keeping your eye on the ball is important. Following through with your swing is more important. Footwork, however, is most important."

There you have Jack Hutchison's opinion of golf, and Jack is sure a SHERIFF'S SALE.

MARKET NEWS
PRICES EASE
ON REPORTS OF
MUCH SEEDING

Bearish Influence Is Manifest in Early Dealings on Chicago Board

Chicago, April 28.—Easing down of prices on the wheat market today during the early dealings resulted from favorable seeding conditions for the spring crop and from rains benefitting the winter crop territory. Kansas and Nebraska in particular. Besides Liverpool quotations showed a decline. Prices here receded one cent before developing power to rally. The opening which ranged from 1/2 to 3/4 cents lower with May, $1.24 1/2 to $1.25 and July, $1.22 1/2 to $1.23 was followed by further downturns and then a little reaction.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.
Minneapolis, April 28.—Flour unchanged. Shipments, 49,788 barrels. Bran, $28 to $28.50.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK.
So. St. Paul, April 28.—Cattle receipts, 50. Market compared with a week ago. Killing closes no too steady. Common to good beef steers, $6.25 to $9. Butcher cows and heifers, $4.50 to $8.25. Canners and calves, $1 to $1.75. Good and choice stockers and feeders strong to 25 cents higher. Others steady. Range, $4 to $8.25.

Chicago, April 28.—Cattle receipts, 100. Compared with a week ago, beef steers about steady. Best grades closed strong. Yearlings offered liberally. Plain kind, 25 to 40 cents lower. Extreme top matured steers, $10.00 to $10.10. Beef heifers largely 25 cents lower. Other stock uneven. Mostly steady. Hogs, 15 to 25 cents higher. Veal, 15 to 25 cents higher. Country-wide movement of stockers and feeders broadened in several weeks.

Kinks o' the Links

My caddy is an excellent player, always showing a card between 70 and 80. Being a novice at the game, I am often perplexed as to the best way to make certain shots. The caddy is a very intelligent chap and has a clever way of imparting his knowledge. A keen golfing rivalry exists between myself and a very close friend. In several matches I have consulted with my caddy over certain shots, and pointed greatly to the rebuke. My friend claims I have no right.

Friend golfer is decidedly in error. A player has a perfect right to ask advice of his caddy. This is a common practice, even among the leading players of the country.

If a player's ball is at rest on the fairway, and his opponent's ball strikes it, and deflects it into a hole on the course, what is the proper course to pursue? Must the ball be played from the hole, or has the player the right to lift and drop the ball without penalty? This happened in a match game between two bitter rivals and a serious argument arose as to the proper procedure.

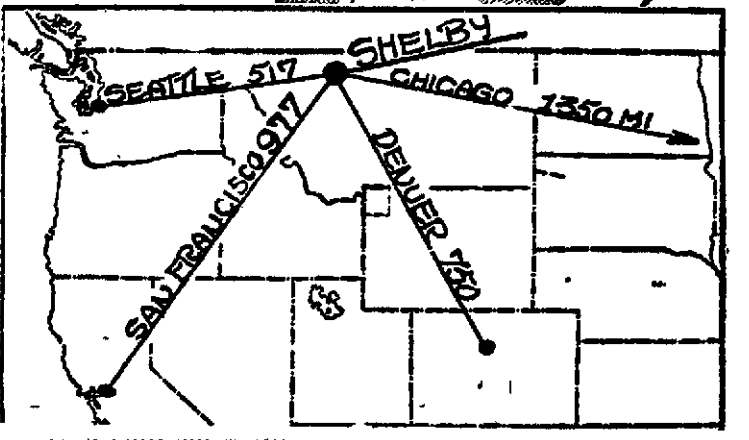

In match play, it is permissible to lift the ball and drop it without penalty, at the spot where it lay when deflected, in medal play the moved ball must be replaced before being played.

Do You Know Baseball?

- Questions—In event of a game that is forfeited, after it has gone beyond five innings, what is done with the record?
- TWO—What is the distance from the pitcher's box to the home plate?
- THREE—When is the catcher charged with a passed ball?
- FOUR—If while running down a player between the lines, in which four players take part, the runner is finally called out for interference or running out of the line, do such players get credit with an assist?
- FIVE—In the major leagues, if a player is put out of the first game of a double header, may he play in the second contest?
- Answers—ONE—In a game which has gone over five innings and is then forfeited, the records go into the averages as made.
- TWO—The distance is 60 feet 6 inches.

Once More There Be Rumors of Match Between Dempsey and Tom Gibbons

JACK DEMPSEY, TOMMY GIBBONS AND A MAP SHOWING JUST WHERE SHELBY, MONT., IS LOCATED.

Once more the wags are full of rumors of a Jack Dempsey-Tommy Gibbons battle for the heavyweight title. It's again reached the stage of tentative offers.

But thus far there has been nothing definite from either the Gibbons or Dempsey management to indicate that a meeting is being seriously considered. Gibbons' recent renewal of long-activities, in which he has spilled a number of naves and near-heavies, is responsible to the agitation for such a match with the Willard conqueror.

The little town of Shelby, Mont., has stepped into the limelight, momentarily, by offering $250,000 for the fight July 1, $200,000 to the champion and the balance to the challenger. Shelby is far from any large city, and is reached by one railroad.

Cleveland promoters are also taking the idea of such a match seriously. Tommy McGinty has submitted to Dempsey and Keenan a $100,000 guarantee for a championship bout at Maple Heights, in Cleveland, the Fourth or Labor Day. McGinty has staged several big bouts.

New York's boxing commission has barred Gibbons as an opponent for Dempsey on the ground that the St. Paul man is too light.

Cappon, Michigan Star Athlete, Closes Great Career At Ann Arbor School

By NEA Service.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 28.—Michigan's star athlete, who has closed his college career, has been named as the most illustrious as well as popular athlete who ever attended the Wolverine school.

"Cappon" as he is known around the campus, was a two-sport man, combining his activities in football and basketball. In the former, he was an exceptionally versatile player, having been used at end, tackle and in the line. In fact it seemed that whenever Yost was in need of a good grinder for a certain position, Cappon was generally the chap selected to fill the post.

However, it was at fullback where he earned the most fame, and through his terrific line-smashing tactics was regarded as the best line-plunger the Wolverines possessed since the days of "Pat" Smith and Johnny Mautsch.

In 1921-22 Cappon was named on many of the second All-Conference and All-Western football teams.

In basketball, he was put out by a opponent in the first two seasons, illness one year and ineptly another, preventing him from playing. This year, though, he was in the thick of the fight, and at back guard proved one of the mainstays of the team.

Cappon is a modest, retiring type, which has a great deal to do with his immense popularity, no doubt. Perhaps, though, his make-up and personality can best be illustrated by the following incident related by Assistant Coach George Little.

This episode cropped out just before Michigan took the field against Minnesota last fall. Captain Paul Goebel was injured and was not in the starting lineup. A new leader was needed. Cappon was appointed, having his last football game of the season and Blue, but Cappon declined, saying "Let Bernie Kirk be captain, he has worked hard all season and deserves the honor more than I do." And so the late Bernie Kirk led the Michiganders in the final tilt of the 1922 campaign.

Cappon will graduate in June, and Michigan will miss "Cappon" not only athletically, but as a student as well.

Catcher Bassler Enjoys Unique Record; Wins Regular Berth First Day

For quite a few years now Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox has been rated as the premier catcher in the American League. And really—four times over—evidence of some 10 campaigns—"Little Ray" has displayed brilliant ability behind the bat.

Not far behind Schalk are Cy Perkins of the Athletics, "Hank" Severed, Browns; Steve O'Neill (Cleveland) and Wally Schang (Yankees). All first-class receivers and real assets to any club.

However, in picking star catchers, don't overlook Johnny Bassler of the Detroit Tigers, who though he has been in the big show but two seasons is already being heralded as Schalk's most likely successor in back of the plate.

Brought to the Tigers from the Pacific coast by Ty Cobb in 1921, Bassler has showed remarkable improvement during the two years he has been in the majors, and many critics are of the opinion that he will be the league's leading catcher within the next two or three campaigns. Some even would acclaim him as the smartest receiver in the junior league. And that's saying quite a little.

When Bassler came to Detroit he turned a trick which is not very often put over by big league catchers nowadays. He broke in as the team's first-string receiver the initial day he appeared in a big league uniform.

It is not only behind the plate that Bassler stars. For he it known that Johnny is also a good hitter. In 1922 he led the catchers in this respect, clouting the old apple at a .223 clip. In fielding he ranked fourth, with a percentage of .980 in 117 games.

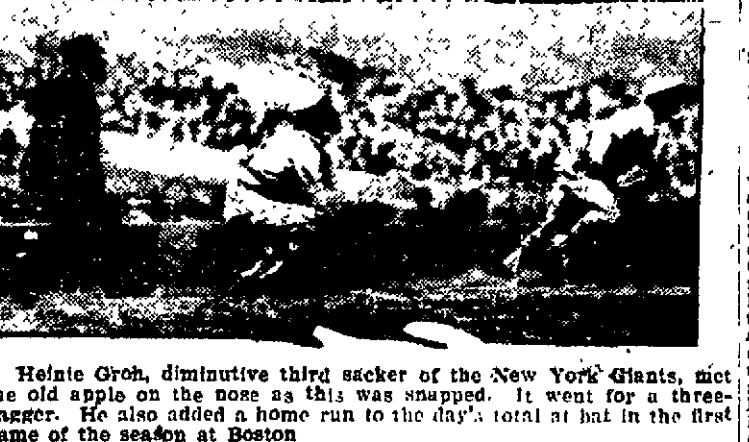

THREE—The catcher is charged with a passed ball when his failure to hold a legally delivered ball enables the batter to reach first, or permits a base runner to advance.

FOUR—All the players who take part in the play are credited with an assist.

FIVE—The major leagues have a ruling that if a player is put out of the first game of a double header he is ineligible for the second contest.

Every Chinese merchant deals with foreign firms through a "comprador," who acts as interpreter and liaison officer.

THE TINY MITE SLOUGHS ONE

Helnte Groh, diminutive third sacker of the New York Giants, met the old apple on the nose as this was snapped. It went for a three-bagger. He also added a home run to the day's total at bat in the first game of the season at Boston.

Billy Evans Says

Keep your eye on the ball. Follow through with your swing. These and a score of other suggestions are a part of golf.

Every kind-hearted individual has a bit of advice that he feels sure will improve your game, when, as a matter of fact, it is certain to injure it. I have always believed that keeping your eye on the ball and following through with your swing are the two principal features of the golf game.

My opinion as to which is really the more important of the two essentials has always swung from time to time. Of course you can't hit the ball if you don't keep your eye on it. Incidentally, you cannot get much distance or accuracy unless you follow through with your swing.

Recently as I watched Jack Hutchinson drive ball after ball down the fairway of the Miami, Fla., Country Club, getting accuracy and great distance to each drive, I wondered what he thought about it, what he figured was the basic fundamental of a good golfer.

"What is your greatest asset from a golfing point of view?" I asked Jack.

"Footwork," he replied, as he continued hitting them a mile. Hutchinson is a little fellow, not weighing over 145 pounds, yet he hits a mighty long ball. You wonder how he does it.

"What is the greatest asset of any golfer?" I asked.

"In baseball the fellow who pulls away from the plate never amounts to very much as a hitter. In tennis foot faults are the most annoying of anything that can happen. Nothing will throw a tennis player off his game more quickly than being constantly out of position. In bowling if a player doesn't approach the foul line properly, and isn't lined up with it, he lets the ball go, he isn't going to get much accuracy. It is needless for me to comment on what footwork means to a fighter.

"Footwork is as much, if not more, essential in golf than in any of the sports I have mentioned.

"First you must address the ball properly. Your feet must be correct as to distance. Then as you start to swing, the importance of footwork becomes even more manifest.

"It is rather difficult for me to try to explain this feature. Anyone who has ever tried to play golf knows just what I mean when I refer to footwork. Those who have never played it have something to think about because—sooner or later—most people will play it.

"Keeping your eye on the ball is important. Following through with your swing is more important. Footwork, however, is most important."

There you have Jack Hutchinson's opinion of golf, and Jack is sure a SHERIFF'S SALE.

NOTICE OF SALE

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a judgment and decree in foreclosure, rendered and given by the District Court of the Fourth Judicial District, in and for the County of Burleigh and State of North Dakota, entered and docketed in the office of the clerk of said court in and for said County of Burleigh, on the 1st day of February, 1923, in an action wherein The Wilson Bank, a corporation, Plaintiff, and D. C. Finck and J. C. Thompson, Defendants, in favor of the said Plaintiff and against the said Defendants for the sum of One Hundred Thirty-one Dollars and Thirty-eight cents, which judgment and decree, among other things, directed the sale by me, of the personal property hereinafter described, to satisfy the amount of said judgment, with interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of such sale, or as much thereof as the proceeds of such sale would be sufficient to satisfy. And by virtue of writ to me issued out of the office of the clerk of said court, in and for said County of Burleigh and under the seal of said court, directing me to sell said personal property pursuant to said judgment and decree, I, Albin Hedstrom, sheriff of said county, and the person appointed by said court to make said sale, do hereby certify that the above described personal property to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Bismarck, North Dakota, in and for the County of Burleigh, Section Four (41), Township One Hundred Forty-three (143) North, of Range Seventy-eight (78) West of the 5th P. M., in Burleigh County, State of North Dakota, on the 12th day of May, 1923, at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, to satisfy said judgment with interest and costs thereon, and or so much thereof as the proceeds of such sale applicable thereto will satisfy. The personal property to be sold as aforesaid pursuant to said judgment and decree, and to be sold, and to this notice, are described in said judgment, decree and writ, as follows, to-wit:

One gray mare named Daisy, 47 years old, wt. 1,300 lbs., obtained from R. Monroe; one grey gelding, named Bill, 9 years old, wt. 1,300 lbs., obtained from R. Monroe; one sorrel mare named Mary, 11 years old, wt. 1,050 lbs., obtained from A. Swanson; one sorrel gelding, named Mike,

ELECTION IN JUNE IS HELD POSSIBILITY

T. G. Nelson Declares Belief People Would Welcome an Early Settlement

LEAGUE MAY ASK IT

Reports that Nonpartisan league leaders will seek a special election to decide the fate of laws of the 1922 legislature proposed to be referred were met here by Theodore G. Nelson, chairman of the Independent Voters' Association executive committee, with the declaration that he believes people are ready to settle the issues as quickly as possible.

Possibility of an election in North Dakota in June or July is seen in the developments in the proposed reference to the people of ten laws. It was reported here that league leaders would demand the laws be referred either at a special election or in November, 1924.

"The people are so tired of actions on the part of a small group of discontented that they are ready right now to register a vote which will leave no doubt that the work of the 1922 legislature meets their approval," was the reply of Mr. Nelson to these rumors.

"I believe that if put to a vote in June or July, the laws that are proposed to be referred, will be approved by such majorities that it will leave no doubt that the people want to settle down to the real business of restoring the credit of the state."

The next regular election in the state is in March, 1924.

EVERY DAY IN EVERY WAY ELKS MINSTRELS GET SNAPPIER AND SNAPPIER, CLINT DRAPER CHANTS

New Specialties to Feature Annual Production at Auditorium Here on May 4 and 5. Lively Surprises Are Promised.

"Day by day in every way the Elks' minstrel show is getting better and better. More talent is being added to the cast, new song numbers are being rehearsed and new hits of stage business are being introduced in connection with the different acts. This year's show will open with a music store scene, with George Russ as the genial proprietor who tries to satisfy the most exacting and temperamental customers. Many clever comedy lines are introduced in this act, in which about twenty people will appear. Specialties by George Russ, Joe Breslow, Henry Deumeland, H. H. Ferner, Verne Goddard, Frank Gale and Clint Draper will make this a most interesting part of the performance. Many instrumental numbers will be introduced in the show—banjo, zither, guitar, harmonica and two instruments of an old nature being brought into play. A feature number of the show will be the two numbers in which several members of the cast will appear as mechanical soldiers. This is a novelty of foreign nature and is really something different in minstrelsy.

The dances of minstrelsy are the latest descendants of the eccentric dances of the negro race and were first brought to the attention of the American people on the Southern plantations, and it was here the first of the great minstrel of the nation copied this form of dancing which has since become traditional and famous in American minstrelsy. These dances will be presented in the show by some clever young men among whom will be Richard Hall, L. H. Miller, T. H. Halloran, Harry Orr, T. H. Thorsalon, Ralph Jewell, James Walsh and Wm. Ankenmann. Clint Draper will also present some soft shoe and eccentric dances. The chorus this year is an unusually large and capable one and their harmony effects are splendid, and a big orchestra will be on hand to give the singers plenty of support. The featured soloists this year, Henry Halverson, H. H. Ferner, Rex Berndt, Frank Gale and George Humphreys, all have especially good numbers and those who have had the pleasure of attending rehearsals say the songs are the catchiest the Elks have ever presented. The comedy end of the minstrel ensemble will be well taken care of by Harry Bernstein, M. O. Steen, Rudy Patzman, P. A. Copelin, Richard Hall, T. H. Halloran and P. H. Grewer and they will be assisted by six dancing endmen. The "Harmony Boards" an act presenting vocal and instrumental numbers is being rehearsed by Harry Wagner especially for this show and will be a real "Big Time" number. In this act Art Dargan, Matt Neibauer and Larry Spencer will be seen. Archie McPhoe and Henry Bernstein have a splendid act in rehearsal which will be one of the comedy hits of the show.

In all more than seventy five people will appear in the production which will be the most pretentious the Elks have so far attempted. Several acts of a surprise nature will be given, and information regarding these is naturally being withheld but they can be depended on to furnish some good comedy. The sale of reserved seats will open at Harry and Woolman's on next Wednesday.

WILL SPREAD KNOWLEDGE OF GOOD THINGS TO BE FOUND IN NO. DAK.

A program to spread knowledge among North Dakotans of worthwhile accomplishments in art and culture to be found in the state will be inaugurated by the division of art, North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Miss Bertha E. Palmer of this city is chairman. "Our own people know very little about the things of value in art we have in North Dakota," Miss Palmer said, explaining the purpose of the effort. "People from outside find many good things in the state which to us are commonplace. We spread a knowledge of what we have among our own people."

Ten general subjects are listed, on which exhaustive information will be sought, for distribution to the women's clubs of the state. It is expected the program will be completed by next October.

The first subject, that of North Dakota clay uses, and its possibilities, will be covered by Miss Margaret Cabel, assistant professor of ceramics, University of North Dakota. Miss Ella Whippleman of Hankinson has taken the subject, "Uses of North Dakota Grasses," which will include a study of the subject from the time North Dakota prairies were great feeding grounds of the North American bison. Dr. M. R. Gilmore of the state historical society will discuss "Art Native to North Dakota."

Study Sakakawea History. An interesting study, approached from a different angle than heretofore, will be the history of the movement resulting in the erection of the statue of Sakakawea, "the bird woman," who guided the Lewis and Clark exploration, on the state capitol grounds. This statue, according to Miss Palmer, is recognized as one of the few Indian statues in the United States considered a faithful reproduction and ranks high as a work of art. Dr. O. J. Libby will tell of taking three Indians to Chicago to pose before Leonard Crunelle, sculptor, Joseph Packineau, Sr., of Ellsworths, an Indian, will tell of Mrs. Hannah L. Grant of the Ft. Berthold reservation, who served as chief model for Crunelle. He also will give the Gros Ventre version of Sakakawea's guidance of Lewis and Clark. A grandson of Sakakawea is still living, Miss Palmer said, being known as "Bullseye" and occupying a home near Steel Creek, Ft. Berthold reservation.

A study of the work of Margaretha E. Heiser, an eastern artist, who found in a year's residence in North Dakota in 1910 subjects for some of the best Indian portraits of the country will be given. Three of her photographs were presented to the state to be hung in the capitol. They now are in the state historical society museum, but the club women plan to have them placed in the capitol corridors. Photographic copies of the portraits of Miss Heiser will be included in the distribution to be made to clubwomen.

Miss Palmer also is searching for a record of all North Dakota monuments, and stories of their origin. She has located 17 monuments in the following places: five in Fargo, two in Ft. Yates, two in Bismarck and one each at Lisbon, near Merricourt, Grand Forks, Mayville, Grafton, Wahalla, Hillsboro, and the Roosevelt monument, the foundation for which has been laid, at Medora.

Many Beauty Spots. Beauty spots in North Dakota will be told in photographs and specially written stories. Picturesque and historic places to be described will include the Chateau de Mores at Medora, the H. T. ranch, the Peaceful Valley ranch, the Wahalla mountains and the Killdeer mountains. A survey of replicas and copies of works of art at state institutions is to be conducted, and also a survey to discover what originals are in the state. Miss Palmer already has received letters, asking her in return for work, from L. B. Hanna, J. G. Hallan, Paul Fjelde, Mrs. Fred L. Graham, Mrs. N. C. Young, Margaret Cabel and Joseph Packineau, Sr.

JUDGE DENIES S. DAKOTA MAN HABEAS WRIT

Samisgark May Appeal To Circuit Court As Last Resort

New Orleans, April 28.—The writ of habeas corpus asked by Ben T. Samisgark, former head of the Midland Packing Co., at Sioux City, Iowa, to prevent the execution of the court order to send him back to Sioux Falls, S. D., to face indictment charging him with using the mails to defraud was denied by Judge Foster in federal court here today.

Unless Samisgark sues out a writ to the U. S. Circuit court he will be taken to Sioux Falls Monday by the U. S. marshal here.

IMMIGRATION ACTION URGED

Many North Dakota communities are alive to the possibility of inducing immigration to North Dakota.

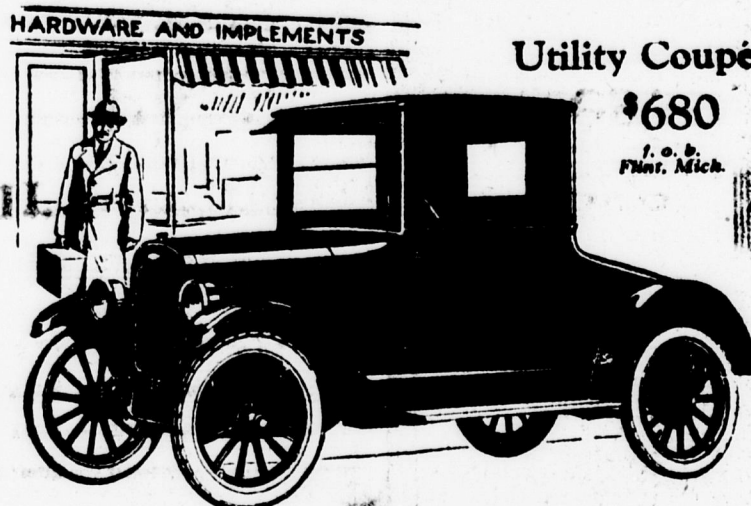

Commissioner of Immigration J. H. Worst declared today.

There is more activity this spring upon the part of booster or other clubs in the various counties of the state than for many years, he asserted. Dr. Worst urges local associations be formed to cooperate with the state department and to supplement its work.

A Benson county organization which has among its leaders S. B. Bagne proposes to send a representative to an Iowa county to make a house to house canvass to bring settlers to Benson county, he said. The Stanley Commercial club also is taking direct action in this regard. Belief is expressed by Dr. Worst that the present year is one of the

Tires With 500 Nail Holes Leak No Air

Mr. K. P. Milburn of Chicago has invented a new puncture-proof inner tube, which, in actual test, was punctured 500 times without the loss of any air. Increase your mileage from 10,000 to 12,000 miles without removing this wonderful tube from the wheel, and the beauty of it all is that this new puncture-proof tube costs no more than the ordinary tube, and makes riding a real pleasure. You can write Mr. K. P. Milburn at 350 West 47th St., Chicago, as he wants them introduced everywhere. Wonderful opportunity for agents. If interested write him today.
